Crave Food Truck

My Idea is to build a web page for an imaginary food truck I once considered creating. I have noticed many of the food trucks in my area lack websites or only have facebook pages which leave much to be desired. Clearly a solid web/mobile site would be a huge advantage so perhaps this project could have practical real world applications in the future.

Features:
My page would have a main page with a little bit of info about the food/business.
A reactive menu page to drive business
A page for current location with a link to google maps
A page for contact us and customer feedback
Possible additional pages as time warrants
